For the past two years many families experienced economic hardships due to the COVID-19 pandemic. One way that the federal government chose to help families in need during this time was through a free breakfast and lunch program at participating school districts. West Prairie was fortunate enough to have been able to take part in this program and offer meals to all students during the last two school years. This program, however, expired June 30, 2022 and will not be available for the coming school year.

For the 2022-2023 school year, West Prairie will be returning to its normal food service operation under the National School Lunch and School Breakfast Program. Students will be charged a fee for each breakfast and lunch they eat and any additional items that may be purchased, such as extra milk. For families that are unable to pay for the full price for meals under this program assistance is still possible. Free/reduced forms will be available on the district webpage as well as at registration.
